YOUR GALLERY

The Devonport Regional Gallery is a vibrant, contemporary art space in the heart of Devonport city. It contributes to the cultural, social and educational life of the local community, boasting an impressive collection of fine art with a focus on Tasmanian contemporary art, craft and design. The Gallery also runs varied exhibitions as well as education and public programs.

The Devonport City Council provides funding to support the Gallery's high quality exhibitions, programs and the Permanent Collection. The Gallery also receives annual funding from the state government through Arts Tasmania.

As the Gallery continues to grow, providing increased benefits to the community and its visitors, its needs naturally change. As a not-for-profit organisation, the Gallery relies heavily on the generous support of donors and grants from various organisations in order to maintain and develop the Collection.

The Devonport Regional Gallery has Deductible Gift Recipient Status (DGRS) which has been endorsed by the ATO. Therefore donations can be made to the Gallery through the DGRS scheme and then claimed as a tax deduction by the donor.

Under the governance of the DGRS, the Gallery uses donations of money for the purpose of housing, conserving, acquiring and presenting the Devonport Regional Gallery Permanent Collection and associated displays. Donations of artworks that comply with the Gallery's Collection Policy are also accepted under the scheme.

Individuals, groups or companies can make a tax deductible donation to the Gallery. Contributions can be sent to the Gallery or made by contacting Dr Ellie Ray, Gallery Director. All donations under the DGRS scheme are held in an exclusive account for the Devonport Regional Gallery. Funds are used strictly for the purpose of housing, displaying, collecting and conserving the Gallery's Permanent Collection.

Thank you for supporting the arts in our region. Your assistance will help the Gallery preserve, collect and display its wonderful collection of Tasmanian art, craft and design.
